We recently added painted parking stalls on N. 8th St. from Park St. to St. Clair St.

The request below is north of New York Ave. I think it is the business north of PK Beans and Cream.

The cost to paint 2 stalls is probably not much especially if it can be included with the epoxy pavement marking bid for next summer or do we just want the DPI guys to do it with latex paint.

The cost in 2017 for parking stalls was $3.75 per foot. It would probably take about 28 LF of paint to mark 2 stalls.

The issue is always the continued maintenance of more and more parking stalls.

How close is this to where existing striping is and how much extra would it cost?

Thanks

Hello Mr. Kummer my name is Tammy Mrotek and my fiancé and I own the building at 910 north 8th street . We are hoping to have parking lines put in front of our business as it would make it convenient for our clientele. Having lines put in front of our building would make it convenient and much safer as we clean our frontage out for our clients so they do not have to worry about snow banks. If one person parks in the middle , which happens a lot only 1 person can park safely. Please consider our request for we have many elderly clients.

Thank you Tammy Mrotek
