GENTLEMEN,

RECENTLY the STREET IN front of my house was repaved. Let me first say between the city AND their CONTRACTORS, ALL WORK WAS VERY PROFESSIONAL AND the END RESULT LOOKS STUNNING. My COMPLIMENTS to ALL that were INVOLVED.

My CONCERN is, when the ROAD WAS FULL OF POT HOLES VEHICLES WOULD TEND to SLOW DOWN A bit APPROACHING the BAD SECTION. But NOW THAT the ROAD IS like glass, CARS NOW TRAVEL up the hill AT A HIGH RATE of speed. My driveway is HIDDEN FROM VIEW while COMING up the hill AND pulling out HAS CREATED A VERY UNSAFE SITUATION.

My QUESTION is would the city CONSIDER INSTALLING A "CAUTION HIDDEN DRIVEWAY" SIGN AT the bottom of the hill? IT would AT least give drivers A HEADS UP ALERT PRIOR to the last SECOND.

ANY CONSIDERATION would be very WELCOMED.

THANK YOU FOR TAKING time to ADDRESS my CONCERNS.

THANK YOU
