Requesting Supervisor/Manager Comments:

What are the objectives for the training? The objective of the training is to learn skills in leadership and forward thinking ideas from some of the best trainers in the field of Law Enforcement. I will also gain knowledge by networking with fellow Law Enforcement Officers from around the country and around the world.

How will this training be shared / implemented upon return? I will use the skills I learn at the FBI Academy each day upon my return as I strive to make the Manitowoc Police Department a more efficient and forward moving department. The skills I learn can be shared with fellow supervisors.

How will this training benefit the City? What is the return on the investment? This training will benefit the City greatly by having yet one more FBINA graduate within our ranks, with Tony Dick retiring and the other 2 graduates (Scott Luchterhand and Larry Zimney) near retirement. The more highly trained the supervisors and officers are at the Police Department the more efficient and forward thinking we can be in the field of Law Enforcement. The field of Law Enforcement is changing daily and educated and informed officers are needed to stay abreast of the numerous issues affecting it. The City will reap the benefits of this training as the investment is a relatively small cost for the City, yet they will benefit greatly by having one more employee with skills and knowledge in the area of leadership and what it takes to run a highly effective Police Department.

FBI NATIONAL ACADEMY

What is the FBI National Academy?

The FBI National Academy is a professional course of study for U.S. and international law enforcement leaders that serves to improve the administration of justice in police departments and agencies at home and abroad and to raise law enforcement standards, knowledge, and cooperation worldwide. Its mission is "to support, promote, and enhance the personal and professional development of law enforcement leaders by preparing them for complex, dynamic, and contemporary challenges through innovative techniques, facilitating excellence in education and research, and forging partnerships throughout the world."

Who attends?

Leaders and managers of state and local police, military police organizations, and federal law enforcement agencies. Participation is by invitation only, though a nomination process. Participants are drawn from every State, from U.S. Territories, and from over 150 foreign nations.

What is the course of study?

For 10 weeks, four times a year, some 225-250 officers take undergraduate and/or graduate college courses in the following areas: Law, Behavioral Science, Leadership Development, Communication, Cyber Crime, and Health/Fitness. Officers participate in a wide range of leadership and specialized training. They share ideas, techniques, and experiences with each other, creating lifelong partnerships spanning state and national lines.

How long has the National Academy been in operation?

The National Academy was created in 1935 in response to a 1930 study by the Wickersham Commission. The Commission recommended the standardization and professionalizing of law enforcement departments across the United States through centralized training. With the support of the International Association of Chiefs of Police and with authority from Congress and the Department of Justice, the "FBI Police Training School" was created. Courses at that time included Scientific Aids in Crime Detection, Preparation of Reports, Criminal Investigation Techniques, and Administration and Organization. During World War II, courses were added in Espionage and Sabotage.

Life after the National Academy.

Following graduation, each officer has the opportunity to join the FBI National Academy Associates, an organization of more than 15,000 law enforcement professionals who actively work to continue developing higher levels of competency, cooperation, and integrity across the law enforcement community.
