

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to you on behalf of Jade. I am her grandma and love her dearly.

I am sorry for what happened, but do two wrongs make a right? Is it fair that my grandson lose his pet?

He is very attached to her.

She (Jade) takes care of her sister Ruby (the runt). They are very playful together. Please accept our apology and give Jade a chance.

Thank You,

Ramona L. Wolf

To Whom It May Concern,

The dogs getting out and killing the cat is an unfortunate tragedy. It was unintentional, the dogs were chained up and wrestled their collars off. I had a house fire 1/22/23 and now have to live at Holiday Inn with my dogs. They have been bought new collars since. I have 2 dogs and my brother has 2. 2 of the are siblings and the 4th is the mother. None of the dogs are violent or malicious. I kept 2 so they could keep each other company while I am at work or working on one of my rentals. They've never spent a day apart since birth. My 8 year old ~~son~~ son is so attached to them both like actual siblings. They are his only remaining possessions after the fire. I've already recieved 2 fines, a vet bill for the cat, forcing the dog to relocate seems extreme. There is a doggie door at my house on the screen door and ~~the yard is fenced in.~~ The yard is ~~fenced in.~~ fenced in. Another ~~incident~~ incident would be very unlikely. It ~~seems~~ ~~seems~~ ~~seems~~ → senseless to relocate Jade. I'm asking for that not to be a requirement. The lady who's cat it was has also been trashing my brother and I on social media. She even posted his address which is not cool, like she wanted malicious activities done to us. I do apologize this happened and preventing it with the fence is an attempt to keep it from repeating. I would tell the owner sorry in person, but I am also upset and annoyed with the address posting and intent for possible malicious activity due to postings on social media.

Thanks,
Richard L. Wolf

To Whom it may concern:

This letter is about the unfortunate incident that occurred with Jade and the cat. Mr. Wolfe has been a guest at the Holiday Inn Manitowoc since January 2023. We are a pet friendly hotel, so we allowed Mr. Wolf to bring his new litter of puppies to the hotel after a fire destroyed his home.

I've been able to build a good report with Jade seeing her daily. Because we are a pet friendly hotel there are many opportunities every day for Jade to interact with other guests, guests' dogs, as well as cats on occasion. I have never had an incident involving Jade with any of the guests or guests' animals at the hotel. So, I felt compelled to write this letter as a personal reference, for Jade. I have only witnessed Jade being a happy friendly and playful dog; never aggressive or violent. I pet them and play with them every time I see them in the halls or at the front desk when they stop for treats etc... This dog is not a threat. Thank you for taking the time to hear another side in defense of Jade.

Sincerely,

Cherish Davey

I am writing a letter on behalf of Richard Wolf's dog. I have played with his dog at his home and at the Holiday Inn, where he is having to stay due to a fire. This dog is not only loving but also a comfort to him. I don't know the details how she got loose but when I have seen Big Jade, she has always been on a leash or in a fenced in yard.

I am a cat lover and have two of my own. My cats live in my house and are part of my family. I am sure this is very heartbreaking for the owner of the cat. But losing Big Jade will be heartbreaking for Richard. He has turned his life completely around. His sons and dogs are his whole world. Please don't make him give up Big Jade. I myself will help assure that she doesn't get loose again. I will personally buy a better collar for her and her sister Ruby.

Thank you for your time,
