Here's my shout out for the day

I think we are so truly blessed to have the public library we have. So many people I know that aren't from you remark on the awesome activities and things I tell them we have access to individually and as a family for free. The staff is always so extremely friendly and creativity behind coming up with activities is so awesome. There is so much more than just books and honestly providing the quantity and accessibility of the books we have alone is amazing.

Ever since I was little the library here was my peaceful place. I spent summer days in elementary school biking over for activities when my parents were at work...I've studied for some crazy midterms, wrote a thesis or 2 there, brought my first baby 12 years ago upstairs and still bringing my 1.5 year old there with what seems an endless amount of things to keep all my kids occupied and engaged.

I wanted to thank our library staff and the board that volunteers their time to keep our library something that makes Manitowoc great.

Everyone deserves the magic of a story and a reminder of the magic still in our world.
