I wish to repeal this invoice. My walk is clearly shoveled. It was windy and I returned that afternoon to shovel my walk and it was completed. The snow that was present obviously blew there from high winds blowing from the north, not fallen from the sky. So this does not comply with your rules of newly fallen snow you can clearly see the walk was shoveled . There was no need to make any attempt to remove snow that was not present. It is clearly visible that across the road, there is snow on the sidewalk at the apartment buildings there was no need to remove my snow. I returned this afternoon of these photos to shovel a second time. You can clearly see the machine used left more snow than my shoveling did prior to plus he did damage to the grass area . There is no cost present on invoice either to justify $300.
