Subject: External: Snow removal

On February 9 I was fine (300)for not removing snow on the sidewalk at 3819 waldo blvd. I am aware I'm not permitted a warning at all. I understand that point but I felt I wasn't giving 24 hours to respond to remove. I know it's permitted to remove the snow on the sidewalk at least but I wasn't giving if that was the reason or not but my driveway is my property if a little snow on there it's my problem. Overall live here for 8 years and I never got a fine for this ever till now. I'm really good from removing snow. So that's why I felt I wasn't giving 24 hours. I work 7am - 3pm weekly and my kids are off at school at 3:30. By the time I get home it's 4 PM. I'm not trying to say this to get sympathy. I'm just letting you know my perspective. At the end of the day if I have to pay it then I'll have to pay the fine. I just want to give him an opportunity to plead my case.
